

The Nagoya Protocol and its implications on research in Colombia

ABS in Colombia

1994

The Convention on Biological Diversity

Signed and ratified

1996

Decision 391
on Access to Genetic Resources

Andean Community

2002

The International
Treaty on Plant
Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture

Signed

2011

The Nagoya
Protocol on Access and Benefit-sharing

Signed

Research on Biodiversity in Colombia

Institutions

http://www.plebio.unal.edu.co/images/pdf/documentacion_publicaciones/invest_biodiv_colombia_propuesta_acceso.pdf

Results

565 projects
registered

99 %
non –commercial use

Indigenous or local communities

565

41

2

The Nagoya protocol

Access contracts

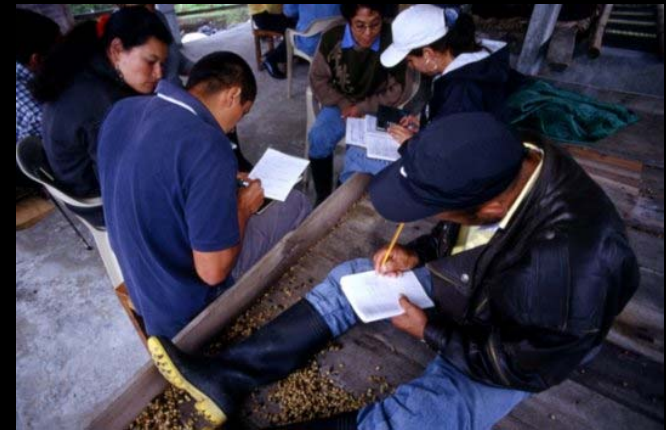

Facilitate access:

Certainty
Transparency Cooperation Flexibility

Traditional Knowledge & PIC

Reactivation of projects in protection of Traditional Knowledge Associated with Biodiversity (community protocols)

Codes of conduct

Access to Information

ABS - CH

Biodiversity
Information System

TK with biodiversity
Net

Thanks

Juliana Velez

juliana76@gmail.com

Consultant on ABS

Photos. Mauricio Salcedo, Francisco Nieto
Alexander von Humboldt Institute.
Colombia. www.humboldt.org.co