

Biodiversity in Armenia

Armenia – country profile

- Surface: 29,800 km²
- Total population: 3,262,600
- Legislative basis: constitution

Importance of biodiversity for Armenia

1. Food

- a) Edible plants
- b) Wild fruits and berries
- c) Honey plants
- d) Edible mushrooms

2. Wood

3. Medicines

4. Plants of economic significance

5. Genetic diversity of wild plants

The main threats of biodiversity

1. Open mining
2. Agriculture
3. Environmental pollution
4. etc.

Legislation

1. Decision of the Government of the Republic of Armenia on adoption of the Strategy and National Action Plan on Development of the Specially Protected Nature Areas of the Republic of Armenia
2. Law of the Republic of Armenia on changes in the Republic of Armenia Law on Specially Protected Nature Areas
3. etc

Thank you!